Biography

Giovanna Lombardo Esquire is an associate of Weir LLP where she practices family law. Ms. Lombardo has devoted her practice to family law since she was admitted to the New Jersey Bar in 2003. In her many years of experience as a family law attorney, she has handled a wide range of family law cases throughout the various counties of South Jersey, cases which have included divorce, custody and parenting time, alimony and child support, post-judgment disputes, domestic violence trials and drafting of settlement agreements. Ms. Lombardo also has handled appeals to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of New Jersey.

Ms. Lombardo grew up in Westchester County, New York, and earned her undergraduate degree in Interdisciplinary Italian Studies from Boston University. Fluent in Italian, she spent a year studying abroad at the University of Padova and holds dual citizenship in the United States and Italy. She obtained her Juris Doctor from Rutgers Law School in 2003 and subsequently served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Timothy G. Farrell of the Superior Court of New Jersey (Salem and Cumberland Counties) from 2003 to 2004. Additionally, Ms. Lombardo was a member of the District IV Ethics Committee for the New Jersey Supreme Court, where she handled attorney ethics complaints.

Ms. Lombardo was named a Rising Star Super Lawyer in the years 2008 and 2009. Ms. Lombardo and her family reside in Burlington County where she enjoys fitness (specifically weight training), spin class, and participating in bikeathon’s for various charities. She also enjoys traveling, exploring new restaurants, and spending time with her family.
